Cloud Analytics

Reduce complexity in a multi cloud world

Our Public Cloud management and optimization tool enables continuous assessment of costs and security settings based on the market's best practices.

Centralized cost management

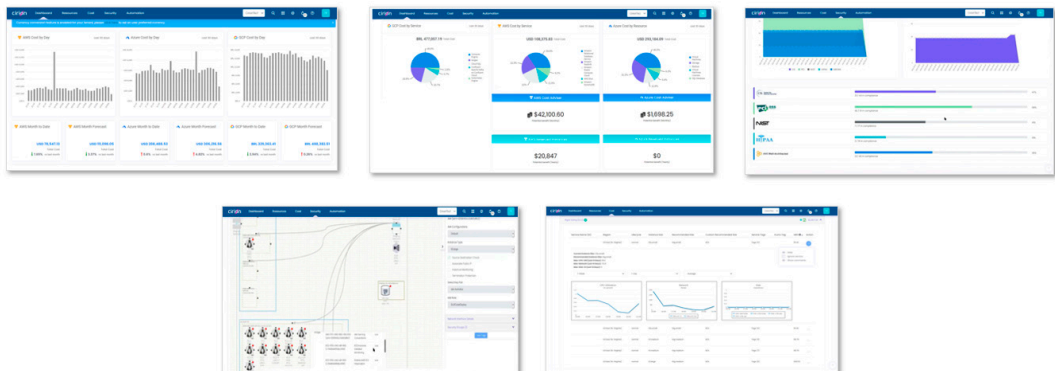

Does your organization need to manage and have full visibility of the costs generated in the public clouds?

Cirion's Cloud Analytics is the solution you are looking for to simply manage and organize your costs, in a single platform.

The perfect platform in the age of Hybrid IT

Our centralized platform provides a simplified management environment to several public cloud providers. It helps manage consumption levels clearly and accurately and features alerts and cost forecasts that will help you make smarter, more efficient decisions.

Benefits

Easy deployment

No need for agent installation. Auto discovery (automatic inventory).

Cost Optimization

Right Sizing. Recommendations for cost reduction. Filter details by service, tag, etc. Assignment of cost and budget to business line.

Security

Security and Compliance Recommendations. Reports by user profile. Graphic visualization simplifying interpretation and analysis.

Multi cloud tool

Support for AWS, Azure and GCP.

Inventory management

Visualization of cloud components. Management at service, account, region, and network levels, as well as in the different available dimensions, such as computing, storage, data base, among others.

Governance for better supervision

Our customers have access to the platform, where they can monitor costs and inventory. The interactive view will also help scale and update environments more efficiently.

More efficiency, lower costs

Simplifying the management of hybrid IT environments to provide faster application delivery is already a great business opportunity. But it's just the beginning. It also helps you keep costs under control and obtain full visibility of the progress to forecast the next steps. All this is possible thanks to automation via APIs offered by Cirion's platform and prior techno-economic assessment as an add-on to the basic package.
